

Spring Forward

It is officially here! My favorite season, spring.

Shopping on the island is back to full price and the beach is slowly starting to lose the loneliness of winter.

It won't be long now, since Topsail Island was cited by a top men's website as one of the top ten beaches in the country! Some on the island are thrilled, others are not so happy that our secret has been revealed. Kind of reminds me of growing up in Cary, NC, 'where better living begins.' After years of being touted one of the top places in the country to live, the population is pushing 200,000. A far cry from the small town of 7000 my family moved to in 1965.

I am confident Topsail Island will keep it's family feel, that's what attracts people here and keeps them coming back.

I love when the time changes and it takes until 8 to get dark.
The sun didn't actually